Financial Reporting and Disclosure

- Review quarterly accounting and financial reports and shareholder disclosures with management and consider whether they are complete and consistent with the information known to Committee members.
- Require periodic reports from management, the independent auditor, and internal audit regarding any significant proposed regulatory, accounting, or reporting changes and issues, including complex or unusual transactions and highly judgmental areas, and recent professional and regulatory pronouncements. Understand the potential impact to and to the financial reporting from these developments.
- Review and assess the impact on the Association and its financial reporting process of any significant accounting or auditing developments or any accounting policy changes relating to preparation of financial statements.
- Periodically, but at least annually, review and discuss with management and the independent auditor disclosure controls and procedures.
- Prior to issuance, approve any annual, quarterly and interim press release of financial results.
- Oversee the preparation of each quarterly or annual report.
- Receive and review reports from Standards of Conduct Officer in connection with quarterly and annual financial reporting.
- Review non-financial sections of the annual report before release and consider the accuracy and completeness of the information.
- Prior to the release of annual reports to shareholders, review a report on disclosures made by the Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, and Chief Credit Officer during their certification process about any significant deficiencies and material weaknesses in the design or operation of internal controls over financial reporting that are reasonably likely to adversely affect the Association's ability to record, process, summarize and report financial information, and any fraud, whether or not material, that involves management or other employees who have a significant role in internal controls.
- Prior to the release of annual audited financial statements, review with management and the independent auditors the results of the audits including any difficulties encountered and receive reports regarding: (a) all critical accounting policies and practices used by the Association; (b) all material alternative accounting treatments of financial information within Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) that have been discussed with management, including the ramifications of the use of alternative treatments and disclosures and the treatment preferred by the independent auditor; and (c) other material written communications between the independent auditor and management, such as any management letter and management's response to the letter, schedule of unadjusted differences, reports on observations and recommendations on internal controls, a listing of adjustments and reclassifications not recorded, and the independent auditor's independence letter.
- Review each quarterly and annual report prior to its dissemination to the public, and consider whether they are complete, consistent with information known to Committee members and reflect appropriate accounting principles. Notification of Committee Meetings and draft reports will be provided prior to release to each Committee Member. Quarterly and annual reports will be reviewed and discussed in a Committee meeting that includes management. The Board hereby delegates to the Committee the authority to approve the release of quarterly and annual statements.
- Report annually to the shareholders, describing the Committee's composition, responsibilities and how they were discharged, and any other required information. The report will include a disclosure
